

TOUR-MATE TO PROVIDE AUDIO TOUR SYSTEM TO THE NATIONAL MUSEUM OF THE PACIFIC WAR

October 11, 2011 – Leading interpretive and audio tour specialist Tour-Mate Systems has embarked on an interpretive partnership with The National Museum of the Pacific War, one that will feature Tour-Mate’s SC550 audio tour system with tours in multiple languages. The system will be available to visitors to the Museum during the December quarter of 2011.

The National Museum of the Pacific War is located in Fredericksburg, Texas, birthplace of Fleet Admiral Chester W. Nimitz, who at the height of World War II, commanded over two million men and women, 5,000 ships and 20,000 planes. The National Museum of the Pacific War is dedicated to perpetuating the memory of the Pacific Theater of WWII in order that the sacrifices of those who contributed to the victory may never be forgotten.

Neil Poch, President of Tour-Mate Systems Ltd., said, “I am delighted that visitors to this magnificent museum will have the opportunity to take the tour using Tour-Mate’s SC550 system. Working with The National Museum of the Pacific War to create a custom interpretive solution for its visitors is a reaffirmation that Tour-Mate is the audio interpretive company to turn to for the best value/service proposition.”

For more information, please see:

Links:

- Tour-Mate Systems Ltd.: www.tourmate.com
- The National Museum of the Pacific War: www.pacificwarmuseum.org

